

Interact, Experience, Watch/Listen, and Connect in LIVE online events October 12-14, 2021

Join other nurses, healthcare experts, educators, and activists from across the country. Share experiences, learn new skills and information, and work together to build power, fight for justice, and win for patients.

WINNING FOR PATIENTS

Conference Topics and Outcomes

- Share and learn how nurses can uniquely contribute to and work toward a racially equitable healthcare system and society;
- Discuss the disproportionate impact of Covid on communities of color and what that means for patient care/nursing;
- Learn about the future of nursing and of the healthcare system in a “post-Covid” world.
- Get up-to-the-minute facts about covid variants and vaccination, and how nurses can contribute to improving public vaccination rates;
- Explore SEIU’s core strategies (Convention Platform) in connection to healthcare, patient care, and the future of nursing;
- Connect with nurses across the country and learn how SEIU nurses are building power and winning on racial, immigrant, climate, and economic justice;
- Discuss and share information on the RN staffing crisis in healthcare facilities, and strategies to address it in facilities, states, and federally.
- Be inspired by how SEIU is leading the transformation of Long Term Care.

Outcomes

- Understand how structural racism impacts nurses, patients, residents, and health outcomes -- and what can be done both individually and collectively to build a more equitable society;
- Discover ways that nurses on the frontline of the pandemic can mitigate personal burnout or address personal trauma experienced during the pandemic;
- Develop skills, while earning CEU credits, in workshops on the core conference topics, developed specifically for frontline nurses.
